Words to know:

Adult is any person 18 years of age or older, or an emancipated minor (a person under age 18 who is legally considered to be an adult).

Anniversary date is when your California LifeLine benefit will end, if you do not renew successfully (and you are not removed from the program earlier for any reason). Successful renewal will add one year to your anniversary date.

California LifeLine is a government program that provides affordable phone service to qualified households.

Children under the age of 18 living with their parents or guardians are considered to be part of the same household as their parents or guardians.

Household includes adults and children who are living together at the same address as one economic unit. An economic unit consists of all adults contributing to and sharing in the household's income and expenses.

Household expenses include food; health care expenses such as medical bills; cost of renting or paying a mortgage on your place of residence such as a house or apartment; and utilities including water, heat, and electricity.

Income includes, but is not limited to wages, salaries, interest, dividends, alimony and child support, grants, gifts, allowances, stipends, lottery winnings, inheritances, worker's compensation, unemployment and public assistance benefit, Social Security payments, pensions, rental income, income from self-employment, and cash payments from other sources, and all employment-related non-cash income.

Medicaid (called Medi-Cal in California) is a government health insurance program for low-income families and eligible aged, blind and/or disabled people who do not have enough income to pay for necessary medical services.

Medicare is the federal health insurance program for people who are 65 or older, people with End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), and certain younger people with disabilities.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal program of monthly benefits for people with limited income and resources who are disabled, blind, or age 65 or older. Blind or disabled children may also qualify for SSI.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) is a federal insurance program with monthly benefits to people who have a medically determinable disability that restricts their ability to be employed. Eligibility is based on disability and work credits.

California LifeLine Program

Eligibility Guidelines

General guidelines

1. Only one California LifeLine benefit per household, except for TTY users.
2. Households must choose to get the benefit either for a home phone or a cell phone, but not both.
3. Households cannot get the benefit from more than one phone company.
4. To get the benefit, you must give your signature, date of birth, and the last 4 numbers of your Social Security number or your complete tribal ID number.
5. Individuals who do not follow the one benefit per household rule will lose the benefit and may be prosecuted by the U.S. government.
6. Individuals can be punished for giving false information to get the benefit. Penalties can include imprisonment, losing the benefit, monetary fines, and being banned from the California LifeLine program.
7. Participants cannot be claimed as a dependent on another person's income tax return.
8. The participant signing the form must be the same person listed under the Home Address in Step 1.
9. The discount for the service connection charge can only be for the primary residence.
10. You cannot transfer the LifeLine benefit to anyone else. They must apply for the program.

Income-based guidelines

If you are qualifying by income, your household's total annual (yearly) gross income (before taxes) must be at or below the California LifeLine annual income limits for your household size. A household includes adults and children who live together at the same address as one economic unit.

An economic unit consists of all adults (persons at least 18 years old) contributing to and sharing in the household's income and expenses. Any household size is acceptable.

If your household has more than 10 members, add $8,200 to $95,100 for each additional member to find out the matching California LifeLine annual income limit.

Check the Income Table to find if your household qualifies.

Gross income is defined as money received before taxes by everyone in your household (adults and children), whether taxable or non-taxable, including, but not limited to: wages, salaries, interest, dividends, alimony and child support, grants, gifts, allowances, stipends, lottery winnings, inheritances,

Note

- Do not send cash, checks, or these guidelines.
- After you are renewed, if you think you no longer qualify for the benefit or if your household is getting more than one benefit by mistake, you must tell us or your phone company within 30 days.
- To stay in the program, you must renew each year.
- California LifeLine participation only lasts for one year.
- If asked, mail copies of a medical certificate, proof of income and proof of program participation. Do not send original documents. We cannot return them to you.

| Income Calculator | | |

worker’s compensation, unemployment and public assistance benefits, social security payments, pensions, rental income, income from self-employment, and cash payments from other sources, and all employment-related non-cash income.

Second California LifeLine benefit

California LifeLine was notified that you want to renew a second telephone line with California LifeLine. The person who uses a teletypewriter (TTY) must have immediate and continuous access to it.

If the Deaf and Disabled Telecommunications Program did not give the TTY, submit a copy of a medical certificate that shows the person’s need for a TTY.

To get the second California LifeLine benefit, your household must still qualify by program or by income.

Enhanced LifeLine and Link-Up

California LifeLine was notified that you want to renew your Enhanced LifeLine or Link-Up program for consumers who live on federally recognized tribal lands.

To get this benefit, your household must still qualify by program or by income.

Not all phone companies offer Enhanced LifeLine and Link-Up.
